FOSTER WHEELER AWARDED TWO CIRCULATING FLUIDIZED-BED STEAM GENERATORS FOR CAM PHA POWER PLANT IN VIETNAM

HAMILTON, BERMUDA, January 21, 2008 - Foster Wheeler Ltd. (Nasdaq: FWLT) announced today that a subsidiary of its Global Power Group has been awarded a contract by Harbin Power Engineering Company, Ltd. (HPE) for the design of two CFB steam generators for the second phase of the Cam Pha Power Plant Project in Cam Pha, Vietnam.

Foster Wheeler has received a full notice to proceed on this contract to design two 150 MWe class (gross megawatt electric) CFB steam generators for HPE, a subsidiary of Harbin Power Plant Equipment Group Corporation. The terms of the award were not disclosed, and the contract will be included in the company's bookings for the fourth-quarter of 2007.

"We are delighted to again be chosen by HPE to complete the second phase of this important project," said Byron Roth, chief executive officer of Foster Wheeler Power Group Asia. "This award confirms our customer's confidence in our CFB technology and service."

The two boilers are designed to burn waste anthracite and slurry. Commercial operation of the new boilers is scheduled for third-quarter 2010.

Safe Harbor Statement

Foster Wheeler news releases may contain forward-looking statements that are based on management's assumptions, expectations and projections about the Company and the various industries within which the Company operates. These include statements regarding the Company's expectations regarding revenues (including as expressed by its backlog), its liquidity, the outcome of litigation and legal proceedings and recoveries from customers for claims, and the costs of current and future asbestos claims, and the amount and timing of related insurance recoveries. Such forward-looking statements by their nature involve a degree of risk and uncertainty. The Company cautions that a variety of factors, including but not limited to the factors described in Part II, Item 1A "Risk Factors" of the Company's most recent quarterly report on Form 10-Q and the following, could cause the Company's business conditions and results to differ materially from what is contained in forward-looking statements: changes in the rate of economic growth in the United States and other major international economies, changes in investment by the oil and gas, oil refining, chemical/petrochemical and power industries, changes in the financial condition of its customers, changes in regulatory environment, changes in project design or schedules, contract cancellations, changes in estimates made by the Company of costs to complete projects, changes in trade, monetary and fiscal policies worldwide, compliance with laws and regulations relating to our global operations, currency fluctuations, war and/or terrorist attacks on facilities either owned or where equipment or services are or may be provided, interruptions to shipping lanes or other methods of transport, outcomes of pending and future litigation, including litigation regarding the Company's liability for damages and insurance coverage for asbestos exposure, protection and validity of its patents and other intellectual property rights, increasing competition by foreign and domestic companies, compliance with its debt covenants, recoverability of claims against its customers and others by the Company and claims by third parties against the Company, and changes in estimates used in its critical accounting policies. Other factors and assumptions not identified above were also involved in the formation of these forward-looking statements and the failure of such other assumptions to be realized, as well as other factors, may also cause actual results to differ materially from those projected. Most of these factors are difficult to predict accurately and are generally beyond the Company's control. You should consider the areas of risk described above in connection with any forward-looking statements that may be made by the Company. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. You are advised, however, to consult any additional disclosures the Company makes in proxy statements, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, annual reports on Form 10-K and current reports on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
